—Warner will carry Kansas City.

—Warner will get a majority of 20,000 in St. Louis.

—The "yellow dog" majority in Missouri is a thing of the past.

—Democrats have little or no hope of carrying Missouri this year.

—Warner will carry Missouri and have ten thousand votes to spare.

—A court house that is a disgrace to Adair county, is likely to be a monument to the folly of the present county court.

—The campaign of 1892 will be a business campaign. That means the election of the Republican ticket by the biggest majority ever known.

—The Democratic party can no longer skulk behind the force bill. It must come into the open field and meet the issue, which is protection to American industries.

—The shooting of Frick at the Homestead works last Saturday is the logical result of the Democratic papers and such men as Palmer preaching anarchism and nihilism.

—The Democrats claim that they gave up everything to the Farmers' Alliance two years ago, and that they are now entitled to some recognition as managers of the present campaign.

—A free iron ore bill enacted by a Democratic Congress would endanger Tennessee and Alabama to the Democrats. The bill is therefore held up—but only until after the election. Democrats in Tennessee and Alabama should find out all they can about this.

—Democrats all over the county declare that, if they cannot vote the straight Democratic ticket in November, they will vote the Republican ticket. To be candid, we believe they would feel better for the rest of their lives if they were to vote the Republican ticket, even if a straight Democratic ticket is nominated.

—Thursday of last week Mr. Vest made a vicious attack on the Hatch anti-option bill. In the course of his remarks he declared that the most vicious bill that had ever been before Congress during his fourteen years of experience as a senator. Mr. Hatch cursed the Western farmer with his oleomargarine bill, but he will hardly be able to do the same with his anti-option bill, which is supported only by milling syndicates.

—The Republican campaign was opened by Maj. Warner at Sedalia Wednesday. The gathering was the largest and most enthusiastic of any ever known in the interior of the state. Maj. Warner says he is as sure to be elected as electricity is to rule locomotion.

—Hatch may be growing weaker in his own county, but it is the opposite in Adair county. There is an under current here in favor of Hatch that the honest supporters of Giles know not of. Hatch will get Adair county, and then Shelby county will want to know how it all came about.

—What would Stone say if he were to come to Kirksville and find that the entire Democratic party of Adair county had been traded off to the Alliance in the interest of one man? The foregoing question was asked by a prominent Democrat who believes that the party should preserve its identity in Adair county.

—Democrats have been arguing that the product of the Homestead mills is protected, and therefore protection is responsible for the riot and bloodshed there. There is free trade in the product of silver mines. Therefore, free trade is responsible for the riot and bloodshed among the silver mines of Idaho, according to the arguments of the Democrats.

—All is not serene in the Hatch camp. Col. Dick Dalton was defeated for Governor and went home to his hay field and blackberry patch. He is ruminating. He feels sore. The Simon-pure Democracy considered him the best man in the field. But the old ring of which Hatch has long been a part and parcel, downed him. His friends, too, feel sore. Mr. Hatch worked for Stone, and used his influence to beat Dalton. The result is that a number of new knives are being whetted for Hatch's scalp. The Dalton men are for Giles and this sudden addition of strength has placed Giles in the lead. It is now thought by good Democrats, and those who ought to know, that Hatch cannot carry his own county.

ADAIR COUNTY DEMOCRACY.

Adair county Democracy is in a very bad way. It is torn with dissension and strife, and will require a tremendous effort to bring anything like order out of the present chaotic state. To the departure from the Jacksonian faith two years ago, and permitting itself to be absorbed by the Farmers' Alliance, is attributed all the troubles of Adair county's Democracy to-day, and it is certainly in a sorrowful condition.

When the combination was made two years ago that destroyed the identity of the Democratic party in Adair county, many of the oldest and staunchest Democrats gravely shook their heads, and expressed forebodings of evil to come.

But they were laughed to scorn by the politicians, who told them that, if the radicals were "downed," the Democrats could claim the election and they would then have the county's records investigated, claiming that the investigation would reveal such a state of corruption that the "radical" party would never again be heard of in the county.

The cry "anything to down the radicals and get at the books" was then started, and, like itch and small pox, it took among the people, and the result of the election has become Adair county history.

True to the promise of the politicians a telegram was sent to Governor Francis claiming that the Democrats had won everything. Recent developments have shown, however, that that telegram was a deception and a fraud. The Democrats had won nothing, but the Democratic party had simply permitted itself to be choked into insensibility by the Farmers' Alliance, and that telegram was sent to hide Democracy's comatose condition.

Now comes the comedy act in the drama. The Democrats who went into the farmers' movement with the war cry: "Anything to down the radicals," now want a fusion ticket. But Father Miller, the man of the flowing silken locks, will have none of it. The ticket must be straight Farmers' Alliance, he says, and every candidate must subscribe to the St.

Louis platform and endorse the sub-treasury scheme. This is galling to the Democrats; but Father Miller has his foot on Democracy's neck, and a straight Democratic ticket will have to be put in the field or they must come to his terms. Their condition is indeed pitiable, but they are really no more deserving of pity than is the man who gets a divorce from a good wife and then weds a shrew.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 25, '92

The Southern Democrats in the House, aided by Holman and others of his class, have undertaken a contract entirely too great for their strength and staying qualities in attempting to prevent the appropriation for the World Fair. The Republican Senators will keep Congress in session all summer, if necessary to compel these Democrats to agree to this appropriation, which only carries out the pledged faith of the Government to the Columbian Exposition and the nations of the world, which have accepted the official invitation of the United States Government to take part therein. The Democrats of the House succeeded in temporarily defeating the appropriation last week and they are now threatening that when the matter again comes up this week, they will filibuster against a motion to recede from the position now occupied by the House and agree to the appropriation, if they find themselves unable to control the House by a direct vote. If they do, so much the worse for the Democratic party, and so much more humiliating will be the defeat, which is bound to come, for the very simple reason that the Republican party has never repudiated an obligation honestly incurred and its representatives now in the Senate will not allow this aid to be withheld from the exposition.

Canada knows by this time that when the President threatened to retaliate for the unjust discrimination against American vessels using Canadian water ways, he was not making a "bluff," but was giving a friendly warning. Congress has, practically without opposition in either House or Senate, passed the bill authorizing the President to retaliate upon Canadian vessels by levying toll or by shutting them out of St. Marys Falls Canal, as he may deem best. The new law is a harsh one, or it may be made such in its bearings upon Canadian interests; but it is still in the power of Canada to take such action as will prevent the President exercising the authority just conferred upon him.

Senator Cameron, of Pennsylvania, owing to the absence of a number of republican Senators, has been able to delay the confirmation of the nomination of Mr. George Shiras Jr., of Pennsylvania, to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court; but it is not considered probable that he can control enough votes to get the nomination rejected, although it is stated that a number of Southern Democratic Senators will vote as Mr. Cameron wishes in return for his having voted with them for free silver. Mr. Cameron's opposition to Mr. Shiras is based upon no better ground than that he recommended the nomination of another man. The confirmation of Mr. Shiras is looked for this week.

The Democrats are already trying to "hedge" on the free trade plank of their platform. This was made manifest to all by the selection of William E. Harris, of Pennsylvania, to be chairman of their National committee. Harris was prominent among the supporters of the late Sam. Randall, the man who kept the Democratic party off the free trade rocks for so many years. Republican managers smile at this acknowledgment of weakness, and will see that the free traders are not allowed to sneak out of the issue they deliberately made.

No measure ever before Congress has been the subject of more radical and at the same time perfectly honest differences of opinion than the anti-option bill which has passed the House and now has the right-of-way in the Senate as the "unfinished business." Those who favor it, and they are unquestionably a majority of the Senate, are emphatic in their statements that it will not injure any legitimate business, its only aim being to put a stop to the fluctuation in prices caused by gambling in "futures." Those who oppose it are just as emphatic in their statements that it will cripple the business of the country and injure irreparably the very class it is intended to benefit—the producers. It is difficult to predict to a certainty whether it will be voted upon at this session, as its opponents threaten to resort to obstructive tactics to prevent a vote, and as soon as the World's Fair appropriation is made adjournment will almost certainly follow. If a vote is reached the anti-option bill will, in my opinion, be passed.

Killed by Sewer Gas.

St. Louis, July 29.—Three persons were killed, three were seriously injured and three are missing as the result of the explosion of gas in a sewer in the central part of this city yesterday afternoon.

The explosion occurred at 4:25 p.m. The Mill creek sewer is one of the main sewers in the city draining a densely populated district. Its capacity was thoroughly tested by the great Waters-Pierce oil fire on Saturday last, and to this fire is attributed yesterday's explosion. It is believed that the gasoline from the oil tanks in some manner accumulated in the sewer and exploded. The force was terrific. Manhole frames weighing 200 pounds were thrown into the air all along the line of the sewer. The force of the explosion seemed to center in Carl Fuch's wholesale liquor store at 1014 South Fourth street, and in the yards of the Iron Mountain railway just south of that place. The interior of Fuch's place, a three story building, was completely destroyed. The building caved in and fell into the sewer beneath, carrying with it Fuch, his bartender, Charles Miller and four men who were in the place at the time, and about 100 barrels of whisky.

Mrs. Tempe, who was standing on the porch of the third floor, was thrown fifty feet and so badly injured that she died at 11 p.m. The damage done in the railroad yards while extensive, was not serious. The sewer was exposed for a distance of about 500 feet and several cars standing on the track immediately above the sewer fell in. So great was the force of the explosion, however, that all the cars in the yard were derailed.

The fire department was called out to search the ruins for the dead. So strong was the odor of gasoline that the men could only work a short time before becoming overcome. The body of Miller was the first found, being buried under the bar. The work was prosecuted under electric lights at night, and at 11 p.m. the mangled body of Fuch was found pinned under the east.
